Minute of dissent by Mr. Manmatha Nath Roy, M.L.A.

I am of opinion that the amendment proposed by the Bill should not be made. The proposed change from hundred per cent. audit to fractional audit is not desirable. There should be all possible safeguards against defalcation. Cases of defalcation cannot be said to be rare, and if the proposed change is effected, such cases are likely to increase. The expenses involved in hundred per cent. audit are not heavy, and the law should not be relaxed on the plea of economy.

Besides, the amendment proposed appears to relate to a matter within the concurrent Legislative List and section 107 of the Government of India Act is applicable.

No. 2387L.A.—16th May 1940.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Administrator General's (Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1939, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee on the Administrator General's (Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1939.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Administrator General's (Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1939, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Assembly on the 5th December, 1939, beg to submit this our report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us annexed.

The Committee having been enjoined by the Assembly to present their report on the 22nd December, 1939, was summoned to meet on the 20th December, 1939, at 9 a.m. But as on that day there was no quorum the meeting was adjourned. The committee thereafter met at 9 a.m. on the 29th January, 1940, and considered the short Bill.

The Bill was published before introduction in the Calcutta Gazette of the 12th January, 1939, and has not been altered by us to the extent of requiring republication.

The alterations made in the Bill are as follows :—

Clause 6.—This clause has been deleted as we felt that publication of the fact of transfer of an estate to the Official Trustee after completion of its administration as provided in section 27 of the Act is necessary and should not be interfered with.

Clause 9.—We have recommended the slight alteration in the draft of this clause with a view to making the intention clear.

Minute of dissent of Babu Nagendra Nath Sen, M.L.A.

I sign this report subject to this note of dissent.

I am not at all convinced of the utility or necessity of this piece of legislation. It is difficult to understand how the Administrator-General having his headquarters at Calcutta will be able to gather information regarding the death and mismanagement of the deceased's estate at mofussil. To me it seems that the necessary remedy lies in an amendment of the Indian Succession Act (Act XXXIX of 1925).

In these days of decentralisation the idea of centralising all authority and responsibility in the Administrator-General at Calcutta does not seem to be sound. It was hinted * * the necessary amendments in the Succession Act empowering the District Judge to take cognisance of such misuse and waste of a deceased man's estate would necessitate an annual expenditure of at least 5 lakhs of rupees. This is however a debatable point. If the District Judge have to spend 5 lakhs the Administrator-General must be required to spend an even larger sum. Where is this cost of management to come from? Surely from the estate of the deceased. So the question of recurring cost is not at all material because it is the estate of the deceased which is ultimately to bear this burden. And in law and equity they should. It was hinted * * that the provisions of this new legislation are intended mainly to be applicable to the Europeans dying intestate in the mofussil. Government are going to acquire power to "notify certain areas" to be included or excluded from the purview of this legislation. And the existing law also provides remedies for "exempted persons." So the necessary ends in view might be more easily met by an amendment of the Indian Succession Act (Act XXXIX of 1925) in the manner suggested above.

Some of the Bar Associations and some other bodies have expressed the apprehension that the administration of mofussil estates by the Administrator-General and the exercise by the High Court of its jurisdiction would have the effect of the estate being swallowed up by the expenses of the administration and by the court. In all such cases the necessary control and jurisdiction should be vested in the District Judge and not the High Court.

S. K. D. GUPTA,

Secy. to the Bengal Legis. Council.

The Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Patni Taluks Regulation (Amendment) Bill, 1939, by Khan Sahib Abdul Hamid Chowdhury, M.L.C.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Patni Taluks Regulation (Amendment) Bill, 1939, by Khan Sahib Abdul Hamid Chowdhury, M.L.C., was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 23rd February, 1940, have the honour to submit this our final report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us. Mr. Kader Baksh, and
Mr. H. C. A. Hunter.

Minute of Dissent.

I cannot agree with the majority views expressed in the report and I therefore signed the report with the following note of dissent.

Out of 13 clauses, only one clause has been retained and that, too, has undergone a thorough change. As such I claimed that the report of the Select Committee should be republished, but as the majority did not agree I place my views in this note of dissent. Further, the effect of the clause as redrafted would be to reduce the monthly kists which is in vogue at present to quarterly kists.

The net result of such a change would be that the Due-dates for the quarterly kists would be fifteen days later than that of the last date of the payment of Revenue, and it would therefore cause more default. Consequently, more Estates would be sold which would mean the annulment of the Patni rights and title. Hence I say that unless the last date for the payment of Revenue be also changed, it will be dangerous to enact such a measure which in the long run will affect the Patni interest in whose benefit the measure is going to be enacted.

On the receipt of this application, the zemindar shall cause it to be published in the manner prescribed for publication of notice in section 18.

In the event of no objection being urged by any recorded co-sharer within four weeks from the time of publication the zemindar shall open a separate account with the applicant, and shall credit separately to his share all payments made by him on account of it.

The date on which the zemindar records his sanction to the opening of a separate account shall be held to be that from which the separate liabilities of the share of the applicant commence.

7. If any recorded patnidar of the taluk, whether the same be held in common tenancy or otherwise, object that the applicant has no right to the share claimed by him, or that his interest in the taluk is less or other than that claimed by him, or, if the application be in respect of a specific portion of the land of a taluk that the amount of patni rent stated by the applicant to have been heretofore paid on account of such portion of land is not the amount which has been recognised by the other sharers as the patni rent thereof, the zemindar shall refer the parties to the Civil Court, and shall suspend proceedings until the question at issue is judicially determined.

8. Whenever the zemindar shall have ordered a separate account or accounts to be kept for one or more shares, if the taluk shall become liable to sale for arrears of patni rent, the zemindar as aforesaid in the first place put up to sale only share or those shares of the taluk from which according to the separate accounts, an arrear of patni rent may be due.

The share or shares sold, together with the share or shares excluded from the sale shall continue to constitute one integral taluk, the share or shares sold being charged with the separate portion, or the aggregate of the several separate portions, of patni rent assigned thereto.

(Clauses 9—12.)

9. If, any case of a sale held according to the provisions of the last preceding section, the highest offer for the share exposed to sale shall not equal the amount of arrear due thereupon to the date of the sale, the zemindar as aforesaid shall stop the sale, and shall declare that the entire taluk will be put up to sale for arrears of patni rent at a future date unless the other recorded sharer or sharers, or one or more of them, shall within ten days, purchase the share in arrear by paying to zemindar the whole arrear due from such share.

If such purchase be completed, the zamindar as aforesaid shall give such certificate and delivery of possession as are provided for in section 15 of this Regulation to the purchaser or purchasers, who shall have the same rights as if the share had been purchased by him or them at the sale.

If no such purchase be made within ten days as aforesaid the entire taluk shall be sold after notification for such period, and publication in such manner, as is prescribed in section 9 of this Regulation.]

10. If any recorded proprietor or co-partner of a taluk shall deposit with the zemindar money or Government securities endorsed and made payable to the order of the zemindar, and shall sign an agreement pledging the same to zemindar by way of security for the jama of the entire taluk and authorising the zemindar to apply to the payment of any arrear of patni rent that may become due from that taluk the whole or any portion of the said money or securities that may be necessary for that purpose, then in the case of any arrear of patni rent due from the said taluk not being paid, the zemindar shall apply, to the payment of such arrear, the said money or securities, or such part thereof, or of any interest due on the said securities, as may be necessary; and, for this purpose, the zemindar shall first apply any money that may be in his hands, and any interest that may be due upon such securities and may then sell and transfer the securities for any balance that may remain.

And, so long as any money or securities as aforesaid sufficient to cover any arrear that may fall due, shall remain and be available as aforesaid, the taluk for the protection of which the said deposit was made, shall be exempted from sale for arrears of patni rent.

All moneys and securities so deposited shall be exempt from attachment otherwise than in execution of a decree of a Civil Court.

11. It shall be competent to the person making a deposit under the provision of the last preceding section, or his representative or assigns, at any time to withdraw the deposit, and to revoke the pledge of the same.

12. (1) A holder of a tenure governed by the Regulation may apply to the Collector of the district within which such tenure is situate for permission to surrender it.

(III) If the Collector, after hearing the party, grants permission for surrender of the tenure, it shall impose such equitable conditions as he may think fit and proper.

(IV) An appeal shall lie to the Divisional Commisisoner from any order of a Collector, under him, passed under this section.

13. Notwithstanding anything contained in this or any other Act a tenure disposed of by sale under the Regulation or according to any other provision of law for arrears of rent due on account of it will be sold in full satisfaction of all the arrear dues by the act of the defaulter, his predecessor, his representative or assigns up to the date of sale.]*

(b) where the amount of the deficiency of profits exceeds the aggregate amount of the profits so chargeable for the previous chargeable accounting periods, or where there is no previous chargeable accounting period, the balance of the deficiency of profits or the whole of the deficiency, as the case may be, shall be applied in reducing any profits so chargeable for the next subsequent chargeable accounting period, and if and so far as it exceeds the amount of those profits, any profits so chargeable for the next subsequent chargeable accounting period and so on.

8. (1) As from the date of any change in the persons carrying on a business, the business shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be deemed for all the purposes of this Act except for the purposes of determining the amount of the statutory percentage to have been discontinued, and a new business to have been commenced.

(2) Where the change took place before the 1st day of September, 1939, and consisted in the death or retirement of a partner, or the taking in of a partner, the persons carrying on the business after the change may, by notice given in writing before the prescribed date to the Excess Profits Tax Officer, elect that, for the purposes of the provisions of this Act relating to the computation of standard profits, the business shall not be deemed to have been discontinued.

(3) A business shall not, for the purposes of the provisions of this Act relating to the computation of standard profits, be deemed to be discontinued by reason of any change occurring on or after the 1st day of September, 1939, in the persons carrying it on, and the standard profits of the business in relation to any chargeable accounting period shall be computed accordingly, and, in particular, in computing the capital employed in the business after the change, no regard shall be had to any consideration given in respect of the transfer of the business or any of the assets thereof on the occasion of the change.

(4) Where, on or after the 1st day of September, 1939, two or more businesses are amalgamated, the resulting business shall be treated for the purposes of the provisions of this Act relating to the computation of standard profits as it—

(b) any profits made or losses incurred or capital employed in any of those former businesses had been made, incurred or employed in the resulting business; and

and, in particular, in computing the capital employed in the resulting business, no regard shall be had to any consideration given in respect of the transfer of any of those former businesses or any of the assets thereof on the occasion of the amalgamation.

(5) Where, on or after the 1st day of September, 1939, part of a business is transferred as a going concern by the person theretofore carrying it on to another person, the part transferred and the part not transferred shall each be deemed for the purposes of the provisions of this Act relating to the computation of standard profits to be a continuation of the original business, and the said provisions, including the provisions of this section relating to amalgamations, shall apply accordingly, subject to any necessary modifications:

Provided that, for the purposes aforesaid, such apportionments shall be made of the profits made, and losses incurred, and the capital employed, in the original business, and of any assets of the original business as may appear to the Excess Profits Tax Officer, or on appeal in the prescribed time and manner to the Board of Referees, to that Board, to be just.

(6) Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing provisions of this section, where a business was carried on immediately before the 1st day of April, 1936, and that business, or the main part of that business, was transferred after the said day and before the 1st day of September, 1939, by the person carrying it on to another person, the Excess Profits Tax Officer, if he is satisfied that the business carried on after the transference was not substantially different from the business or part transferred, shall, on the application of the person carrying on the business after the transference, treat that person, for the purposes of the provisions of this Act relating to the computation of standard profits, as if he had carried on the transferred business or part of the business as from the date of the commencement of that business, subject, however, to such modifications (including modifications as respects the computation of capital) as he may consider just.

(7) Where, on or after the 1st day of September, 1939, a partner in a firm carrying on a business to which this Act applies dies, then notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1) any deficiency of profits in respect of any chargeable accounting period ending on or before the date of his death shall, if it has not been fully applied in reducing the profits of any chargeable accounting period under section 7, be carried forward and applied in reducing any profits from the same business carried on by the surviving partner or partners in the first chargeable accounting period after the death of the partner, and if and so far as it exceeds the amount of those profits, in reducing any profits from such business in the next subsequent chargeable accounting period and so on.

Inter connected companies.

9. (1) Where any interest, annuity or other annual payment, or any royalty or rent, is paid by one company to another company, and one of those companies is a subsidiary of the other, or both are subsidiaries of a third company, the capital, profits and losses of both companies shall be computed for the purposes of this Act as if—

(i) the chargeable accounting period; or

(ii) any year constituting or comprised in the standard period of the principal company, shall be treated for the purposes of this Act as if it or they were capital employed in, or as the case may be, profits or losses arising from, the business of the principal company.

(4) If the subsidiary company is a subsidiary of the principal company during part only of the chargeable accounting period, the excess or deficiency of profits of the subsidiary company for that part of that period shall be treated as increasing or, as the case may be, decreasing the excess or deficiency of profits of the principal company for the whole period and shall not be deemed to be an excess or deficiency of profits of the subsidiary company.

In this sub-section, the expressions "excess" and "deficiency" mean, in relation to profits, an excess or deficiency in relation to the standard profits of the subsidiary company or, as the case may be, the principal company.

(5) In any case to which sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) applies, such alteration, if any, of the periods which would otherwise be the chargeable accounting periods of the subsidiary company shall be made as the Central Board of Revenue may direct.

(6) For the purposes of this section, a company shall be deemed to be a subsidiary of another company if and so long as not less than nine-tenths of its ordinary share capital is owned by that other company, whether directly or through another company or other companies, or partly directly and partly through another company or other companies.

(7) The amount of ordinary share capital of one company owned by a second company through another company or other companies, or partly directly and partly through another company or other companies shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Third Schedule.

(8) In this section and the Third Schedule references to ownership shall be construed as references to beneficial ownership, and the expression "ordinary share capital", in relation to a company, means all the issued share capital (by whatever name called) of the company, other than capital the holders whereof have a right to a dividend at a fixed rate but have no other right to share in the profits of the company.

(9) The principal company shall be entitled to allocate to its subsidiary company or companies the respective proportionate shares of the excess profits tax payable by the whole group.

(10) The excess profits tax payable by virtue of this section by the principal company in respect of the profits of any subsidiary company shall, for the purposes of section 12, be deemed to have been paid by the subsidiary company and not by the principal company.

Artificial transactions.

10. (1) A person shall not for the purpose of reducing any excess profits which are or would be chargeable to excess profits tax enter into a fictitious or artificial transaction, or carry out any fictitious or artificial operation.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section an artificial transaction or operation includes every device of whatever nature adopted for the purpose of presenting the accounts of a business in a misleading form or manner with intent to evade or having the effect of evading any obligation imposed by this Act.

(2) Any such transaction or operation shall be treated as null and void for the purpose of computing the excess profits tax payable under this Act.

(3) If the Excess Profits Tax Officer is satisfied that any person has acted in contravention of the provisions of sub-section (1), he may with the previous approval of the Inspecting Assistant Commissioner direct that such person shall pay, in addition to any excess profits tax for which he is or would, but for such transaction or operation, be liable, a penalty not exceeding the tax evaded or sought to be evaded.

Relief in respect of double excess profits taxation.

11. (1) The Central Government may by notification in the official Gazette make provision for the granting of relief in cases where both excess profits tax under this Act and excess profits tax under any law in force in the United Kingdom, in any Indian State, or in any other part of His Majesty's Dominions have been paid upon the profits of any business if it appears to the Central Government that the laws of the United Kingdom or of that Indian State or of that other part of His Majesty's Dominions provide for corresponding relief in respect of excess profits tax charged on profits both in the United Kingdom or in that State or in that part and in British India:

Provided that where under section 19 of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 1939, national defence contribution has been paid in the United Kingdom in lieu of excess profits tax, that portion of the national defence contribution so paid which is equal to the excess profits tax which would otherwise have been payable shall, for the purposes of this sub-section, be deemed to be excess profits tax paid in the United Kingdom. 2 & 3 Geo. 6 ch. 108.

(2) If any person, who has paid excess profits tax under this Act for any chargeable accounting period in respect of profits arising outside India in a country the laws of which do not provide for any relief in respect of excess profits tax charged in British India, proves that he has paid excess profits tax under the laws of the said country in respect of the same profits, he shall be entitled to the deduction from the excess profits tax payable in British India of a sum equal to one-half thereof or to one-half of the excess profits tax payable in the said country, whichever is the less.

Allowance of excess profits tax in computing income for income-tax purposes.

12. (1) The amount of the excess profits tax payable in respect of a business for any chargeable accounting period diminished by any amount allowable by way of relief under the provisions of section 11, shall, in computing for the purposes of income-tax or super-tax the profits and gains of that business, be allowed to be deducted as an expense incurred in that period.

(2) There shall also be so deducted the amount of any excess profits tax payable under any law in force in a country outside British India on the profits of the business in respect of any chargeable accounting period to the extent that such profits arose in the said country, after diminishing such amount by any amount which is allowable by way of relief by repayment, set off or otherwise under any law in the country where the tax is payable providing for the granting of relief in that country where excess profits tax has also been charged in British India:

Provided that where, under the provisions of this Act relating to deficiencies of profits or under any corresponding law in force in the said country without British India, relief is given by way of repayment from excess profits tax chargeable for any chargeable accounting period previous to that in which the deficiency occurs, the amount of the deduction allowed under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall not be altered, but the amount repayable shall be taken into account in computing the profits and gains of the business for the purposes of income-tax as if it were a profit of the business accruing in the chargeable accounting period in which the deficiency of profits occurs.

Issue of notices for assessment.

13. (1) The Excess Profits Tax Officer may, for the purposes of this Act, require any person whom he believes to be engaged in any business to which this Act applies, or to have been so engaged during any chargeable accounting period, or to be otherwise liable to pay excess profits tax, to furnish within such period, not being less than sixty days from the date of the service of the notice, as may be specified in the notice, a return in the prescribed form and verified in the prescribed manner setting forth (along with such other particulars as may be provided for in the notice) with respect to any chargeable accounting period specified in the notice the profits of the business and the standard profits of the business as computed in accordance with the provisions of section 6 or the amount of deficiency available for relief under section 7:

Provided that the Excess Profits Tax Officer may, in his discretion, extend the date for the delivery of the return.

(2) The Excess Profits Tax Officer may serve on any person, upon whom a notice has been served under sub-section (1), a notice requiring him on a date to be therein specified to produce, or cause to be produced, such accounts or documents as the Excess Profits Tax Officer may require and may from time to time serve further notices in like manner requiring the production of such further accounts or documents or other evidence as he may require:

Provided that the Excess Profits Tax Officer shall not require the production of any accounts relating to a period prior to the "previous year" as determined under section 2 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, for the purpose of the income-tax assessment for the year ending on the 31st day of March, 1937.

Assessments.

14. (1) The Excess Profits Tax Officer shall, by an order in writing after considering such evidence, if any, as he has required under section 13, assess to the best of his judgment the profits liable to excess profits tax and the amount of excess profits tax payable on the basis of such assessment, or if there is a deficiency of profits, the amount of that deficiency and the amount of excess profits tax, if any, repayable and shall furnish a copy of such order to the person on whom the assessment has been made.

(2) Excess profits tax payable in respect of any chargeable accounting period shall be payable by the person carrying on the business in that period.

(3) Where two or more persons were carrying on the business jointly in the chargeable accounting period, the assessment shall be made upon them jointly and, in the case of a partnership, may be made in the partnership name.

(4) Where by virtue of the foregoing provisions an assessment could, but for his death, have been made on any person either solely or jointly with any other person or persons, the assessment may be made on his legal representative either solely or jointly with that other person or persons, as the case may be.

Profits escaping assessment.

15. If, in consequence of definite information which has come into his possession, the Excess Profits Tax Officer discovers that profits of any chargeable accounting period chargeable to excess profits tax have escaped assessment, or have been underassessed, or have been the subject of excessive relief, he may at any time within five years of the end of the chargeable accounting period in question serve on the person liable to such tax a notice containing all or any of the requirements which may be included in a notice under section 13, and may proceed to assess or re-assess the amount of such profits liable to excess profits tax and the provisions of this Act shall, so far as may be, apply as if the notice were a notice issued under that section.

Penalties.

16. If the Excess Profits Tax Officer, the Appellate Assistant Commissioner or the Commissioner, in the course of any proceedings under this Act, is satisfied that any person has, without reasonable cause, failed to furnish the return required under sub-section (1) of section 13, or to produce or cause to be produced the accounts or documents or other evidence required by the Excess Profits Tax Officer under sub-section (2) of that section, or has concealed particulars of the profits made by or capital employed in the business, or has deliberately furnished inaccurate particulars of such profits or capital, he may direct that such person shall pay by way of penalty, in addition to the amount of any excess profits tax payable, a sum not exceeding—

(a) where the person has failed to furnish the return required under sub-section (1) of section 13, the amount of the excess profits tax payable; and

(b) in any other case, the amount of excess profits tax which would have been avoided if the return made had been accepted as correct:

Provided that the Excess Profits Tax Officer shall not impose any penalty under this section without the previous approval of the Inspecting Assistant Commissioner.

Appeals.

17. (1) Any person aggrieved by a decision made in pursuance of section 8, or objecting to the amount of excess profits tax for which he is liable as assessed by the Excess Profits Tax Officer or denying his liability to be assessed under this Act, or objecting to any penalty imposed by the Excess Profits Tax Officer, or to the amount of any deficiency of profits as assessed by the Excess Profits Tax Officer, or to the amount allowed by the Excess Profits Tax Officer by way of relief under any provision of this Act or to any refusal by the Excess Profits Tax Officer to grant relief may appeal to the Appellate Assistant Commissioner:

Provided that no appeal shall lie against a determination of the amount of the profits of any standard period where those profits have been determined in accordance with the first proviso to rule 1 of the First Schedule except in respect of adjustments made under the provisions of that Schedule:

Provided further that no appeal shall lie under this section against any apportionment made by the Excess Profits Tax Officer under the proviso to sub-section (5) of section 8 or against any decision of the Board of Referees under sub-section (3) of section 6.

(2) An appeal shall ordinarily be presented within forty-five days of receipt of the notice of demand relating to the assessment or penalty objected to, or in the case of an appeal against the assessment of a deficiency of profits, within forty-five days of the receipt of the copy of the order determining the deficiency, or in the case of an appeal against the amount of a relief granted or a refusal to grant relief, within forty-five days of the receipt of the intimation of the order granting or refusing to grant the relief, but the Appellate Assistant Commissioner may admit an appeal after the expiration of that period if he is satisfied that the appellant had sufficient cause for not presenting it within that period.

(3) An appeal shall be in the prescribed form and shall be verified in the prescribed manner.

(4) The Appellate Assistant Commissioner shall hear and determine the appeal and, subject to the provisions of this Act, shall pass such orders as he thinks fit, and such orders may include an order enhancing the assessment or a penalty:

Provided that an order enhancing an assessment or penalty shall not be made unless the person affected thereby has been given a reasonable opportunity of showing cause against such enhancement.

(5) The procedure to be adopted in the hearing and determination of appeals shall be in accordance with the rules made in this behalf by the Central Board of Revenue.

Appeal to Commissioner against Appellate Assistant Commissioner's orders imposing penalties or enhancing assessments or penalties.

18. (1) Any person objecting to an order passed by an Appellate Assistant Commissioner imposing on him a penalty under section 16 or enhancing his assessment or enhancing a penalty under section 17 may appeal to the Commissioner within thirty days of the date on which he was served with notice of such order.

(2) In disposing of the appeal the Commissioner may, after giving the appellant an opportunity of being heard, pass such orders thereon as he thinks fit.

(3) On the coming into operation of Part II of the Indian Income-tax (Amendment) Act, 1939, this section shall cease to have effect.

Power of revision.

19. (1) The Commissioner may of his own motion call for the record of any proceeding under this Act which has been taken by any Excess Profits Tax Officer or Appellate Assistant Commissioner subordinate to him, and on receipt of the record may make such enquiry, or cause such enquiry to be made, and, subject to the provisions of this Act, may pass such orders thereon (including an order enhancing an assessment) as he thinks fit:

Provided that he shall not pass any order prejudicial to a person to whose business this Act applies without hearing him, or giving him a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

(2) On the coming into operation of Part II of the Indian Income-tax (Amendment) Act, 1939, sub-section (1) shall cease to have effect, but thereafter any Excess Profits Tax Officer or any person in respect of whose business an order under section 14 has been passed who objects to an order passed by an Appellate Assistant Commissioner under section 16 or section 17 may, within the prescribed time and in the prescribed manner, appeal against such order to the Appellate Tribunal constituted under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, and that Tribunal shall have all such powers in disposing of the appeal as it has in respect of appeals preferred to it under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

Rectification of mistakes.

20. The Commissioner may, at any time within four years from the date of any order passed whether by himself or by any Appellate Assistant Commissioner or Excess Profits Tax Officer under this Act, rectify any mistake in any evidence recorded during assessment or appellate proceedings, or any mistake apparent from the record and shall within the like period rectify any mistake apparent from the record which has been brought to his notice by a person to whose business this Act applies:

Provided that no such rectification shall be made having the effect of enhancing the liability of any person unless that person has been given a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

Application of provisions of Act XI of 1922.

21. The provisions of sections 4A, 4B, 10, 13, 24B, 29, 36 to 44C (inclusive), 45 to 48 (inclusive), 49E, 49F, 50, 54, 61 to 63 (inclusive), 65 to 67A (inclusive) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, shall apply with such modifications, if any, as may be prescribed, as if the said provisions were provisions of this Act and referred to excess profits tax instead of to income-tax, and every officer exercising powers under the said provisions in regard to income-tax may exercise the like powers under this Act in regard to excess profits tax in respect of cases assigned to him under sub-section (3) of section 3 as he exercises in relation to income-tax under the said Act:

Provided that references in the said provisions to the assessee shall be construed as references to a person to whose business this Act applies.

Income-tax Papers to be available for the purposes of this Act.

22. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, all information contained in any statement or return made or furnished under the provisions of that Act or obtained or collected for the purposes of that Act may be used for the purposes of this Act.

(2) All information contained in any statement or return made or furnished under the provisions of this Act or obtained or collected for the purposes of this Act may be used for the purposes of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

Failure to deliver returns or statements.

23. If any person fails, without reasonable cause or excuse, to furnish in due time any return or statement, or to produce, or cause to be produced, any accounts or documents required to be produced under section 13, he shall on conviction by a Magistrate be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, and with a further fine which may extend to fifty rupees for every day during which the default continues.

False statement and declaration.

24. If a person makes in any return required under section 13 any statement which is false, and which he either knows or believes to be false, or does not believe to be true, he shall be punishable on conviction by a Magistrate with simple imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

Institution of Proceedings and composition of offences.

25. (1) A person shall not be proceeded against for an offence under section 23 or section 24 except at the instance of the Inspecting Assistant Commissioner.

(2) No prosecution for an offence punishable under section 23 or section 24 or under the Indian Penal Code shall be instituted in respect of the same facts as those in respect of which a penalty has been imposed under this Act.

(3) The Inspecting Assistant Commissioner may, either before or after the institution of proceedings, compound any offence punishable under section 23 or section 24.

Power of Central Board of Revenue to grant relief in special cases.

26. (1) If the Central Board of Revenue is satisfied in the case of any business that special circumstances exist which render it inequitable that the standard profits of the business in relation to any chargeable accounting period should be computed in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 6, and that no relief or insufficient relief has been granted under the provisions of sub-section (3) of that section, the Central Board of Revenue may direct that the standard profits of the business shall be computed to be such greater amount as the Central Board of Revenue thinks just:

Provided that such amount shall not exceed the statutory percentage of the average amount of the capital employed in the business unless the Central Board of Revenue is satisfied that owing to some specific cause peculiar to the business it is just that a greater amount should be allowed and that the relief, if any, afforded by the Board of Referees under sub-section (3) of section 6 is inadequate.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the provisions of sub-section (1) the Central Board of Revenue shall, in considering the making of a direction under that sub-section, have regard to the following circumstances, namely:—

(a) that the capital employed in a business commenced on or after the 1st day of July, 1938, is so small in relation to the volume of the activities of the business that to compute the standard profits in accordance with the provisions of section 6 would be inequitable, taking into account the normal profits made in similar businesses;

(b) that owing to the nature of the business heavy expenditure by way of preliminary expenses or expenses in connection with experimental or development work has been incurred in accounting periods closely preceding the chargeable accounting period and that during the chargeable accounting period such expenditure would normally fall to be written off wholly or partly in the books of the person chargeable to excess profits tax;

(c) that the business is of a pioneer nature, that is to say, is concerned with an industrial process or a form of manufacture or production not undertaken in British India before the 1st day of April, 1932, and has not been in existence long enough to have paid income-tax for the previous year as determined for purpose of the income-tax assessment for the year beginning on the 1st day of April, 1937.

(3) If the Central Board of Revenue is satisfied that the computation in accordance with the provisions of Schedule I of the profits of a business during any chargeable accounting period would be inequitable, owing to any of the following circumstances, namely:—

(a) any postponement or suspension, as a consequence of the present hostilities, of renewals or repairs, or

(b) the provision of buildings, plant or machinery which will not be required for the purposes of the business after the termination of the present hostilities, or

(c) difficulties in bringing into British India income arising outside British India where the country in which the income accrued prohibits or restricts by its laws the remittance of money to British India, and loss in the remittance to British India of such income because of fluctuations in the rate of exchange between that country and British India;

the Central Board of Revenue may direct that such allowances shall be made in computing the profits of the business during that chargeable accounting period as the Central Board of Revenue thinks just:

Provided that in making such direction the Central Board of Revenue may impose such conditions as it deems appropriate.

Power to make rules.

27. (1) The Central Board of Revenue may, subject to the control of the Central Government, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

(a) prescribe the procedure to be followed on appeals, applications for rectification of mistakes, and applications for refunds;

(b) provide for the adaptation to excess profits tax of any of the provisions of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, which are made applicable to excess profits tax by section 21; or of any rules made under any such provision;

(c) provide in regard to companies whose business consists wholly or mainly in the dealing in or holding of investments for the granting of exemption or relief from liability to excess profits tax of profits derived from investments in other companies the profits of which have been subjected to excess profits tax in British India;

(d) provide for any matter which by, or under, this Act is to be prescribed.

(3) The power to make rules conferred by this section shall be exercised in like manner as the power to make rules under section 59 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

SCHEDULE I.

[See section 2(19).]

Rules for the computation of profits for purposes of Excess Profits Tax.

1. The profits of a business during the standard period, or during any chargeable accounting period, shall be separately computed, and shall, subject to the provisions of this Schedule, be computed on the principles on which the profits of a business are computed for the purposes of income-tax under section 10 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922:

Provided that where the profits during any standard period have already been determined for the purpose of an assessment under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, such profits as so determined shall, subject to the adjustments required by this Schedule, be taken as the profits during that period for the purpose of excess profits tax:

Provided further that where a standard period or chargeable accounting period is not an accounting period, the profits or losses of the business during any accounting periods wholly or partly included within the standard period or chargeable accounting period shall be so computed as aforesaid, and such division and apportionment to specific periods of those profits or losses and such aggregation of those profits and losses, or any apportioned part thereof shall be made as appears necessary to arrive at the profit during the standard period or chargeable accounting period: and any such apportionment shall be made in proportion to the number of months or fractions of months in the respective periods unless the Excess Profits Tax Officer, having regard to any special circumstances, otherwise directs.

2. The profits of a business during the standard period shall be computed on the same basis and in the same manner as the profits of that business are under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, as amended by the Indian Income-tax (Amendment) Act, 1939, computed for the chargeable accounting period, notwithstanding that the Indian Income-tax (Amendment) Act, 1939, may not have been in force in the standard period.

3. (1) The principle of adding the allowance for depreciation for any one period to the allowance for depreciation for any subsequent period and deeming it to be part of the allowance for such subsequent period shall not be followed.

(2) No allowance shall be made for any loss other than a loss sustained in a business to which this Act applies.

(3) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as permitting the application, in computing profits for the purposes of the excess profits tax, of the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 24 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

4. (1) Income received from investments shall be included in the profits in the cases and to the extent provided in sub-rules (2) and (4) of this rule and not otherwise.

(2) In the case of the business of a building society, or of a moneylending business, banking business, insurance business or business consisting wholly or mainly in the dealing in or holding of investments, the profits shall include all income received from investments, whether or not such income is included in the profits charged under section 10 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, or is charged under any other section of that Act, or has been subjected to deduction of tax at source or is free of or exempt from income-tax.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-rule (2), where the profits of a subsidiary company are under the provisions of section 9 to be included in the profits of the principal company for the purposes of assessment to excess profits tax, dividends from the subsidiary company out of such profits shall not also be included in the profits of the principal company.

(4) In the case of a business which consists wholly or partly in the letting out of property on hire, the income from the property shall be included in the profits of the business whether or not it has been charged to income-tax under section 9 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, or under any other section of that Act.

(5) Where the person carrying on a business is the beneficial owner of any investments, the income from which is by virtue of the provisions of this rule not to be taken into account in computing the profits of the business, and a deduction would, apart from the provisions of this rule, fall to be made in respect of interest on borrowed money, the deduction (if any) to be made in respect of that interest shall be computed as if the principal of the borrowed money were reduced by the value of those investments:

Provided that where the person carrying on the business is not a company, no such reduction shall be deemed to be made in the principal of any borrowed money in respect of any investments unless the investments are mortgaged, charged or pledged as security for the repayment of that money and interest thereon.

5. If at any time after the close of the standard period, any increase in the capital employed in a business has been effected by means of a loan from a bank carrying on a bona fide banking business, or by means of a public issue of debentures secured on the property of the company, the interest on so much of the loan or debentures as has been utilised in effecting the increase in the capital shall not be deducted in computing the profits for the purposes of excess profits tax and, notwithstanding the provisions of rule 2 of Schedule II, that amount of such loan or debentures shall not be deducted in arriving at the amount of the capital employed in the business.

6. No deduction shall be made on account of liability to pay, or payment of, income-tax, super-tax, or excess profits tax.

7. (1) In the case of a business carried on, in any accounting period which constitutes or includes a chargeable accounting period, by a company the directors whereof have a controlling interest therein,—

(a) if the standard profits of the company are computed by reference to the profits during a standard period, no deduction shall be allowed in respect of directors' remuneration in excess of the amount paid for directors' remuneration in respect of the standard period or, if the standard period is longer or shorter than the accounting period, in excess of a sum which bears to the sum paid for directors' remuneration in respect of the standard period the same proportion as the length of the accounting period bears to that of the standard period:

(b) if the standard profits are not computed by reference to the profits during a standard period, no deduction shall be allowed in respect of directors' remuneration.

(2) In this rule the expression "directors' remuneration" does not include—

(a) the remuneration of any director who is required to devote substantially the whole of his time to the service of the company in a managerial or technical capacity and is not the beneficial owner of, or able, either directly or through the medium of other companies or by any other indirect means, to control, more than five per cent. of the ordinary share capital of the company, or

8. In the case of a business carried on by a company, if the standard profits of the company are computed by reference to the profits during a standard period, no deduction shall be allowed in respect of remuneration paid to a managing agent in excess of the amount which would have been payable to that managing agent if the agreement in force in the standard period had been in force in the chargeable accounting period, except where such remuneration is subjected to excess profits tax in the hands of the managing agent.

9. Where the performance of a contract extends beyond the accounting period, there shall (unless the Excess Profits Tax Officer, owing to any special circumstances, otherwise directs) be attributed to the accounting period such proportion of the entire profits or loss which has resulted, or which it is estimated will result, from the complete performance of the contract as is properly attributable to the accounting period, having regard to the extent to which the contract was performed therein:

Provided that when any such contract has been completed and the profits have been finally ascertained, if the aggregate of the amounts attributed to previous accounting periods exceeds the profit, as finally ascertained, from the complete performance of the contract, an adjustment shall be made to reduce the amounts so attributed to the various chargeable accounting periods to the amount of the profits as finally ascertained.

10. In respect of any building erected on or after the 1st day of September, 1939, which during any chargeable accounting period has ceased to be required for the purposes of the business or has been sold, any amount by which the value of the building at the date when it ceased to be required for the purposes of the business or the price obtained for the building, as the case may be, falls short of the written down value of the building shall be allowed as a deduction in arriving at the profits of that chargeable accounting period.

SCHEDULE II.

[See section 2(3).]

Rules for computing the average amount of capital.

1. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Schedule, the average amount of the capital employed in a business (so far as it does not consist of money) shall be taken to be—

(a) so far as it consists of assets acquired by purchase on or after the commencement of the business, the price at which those assets were acquired, subject to the deductions hereafter specified;

(b) so far as it consists of assets being debts due to the person carrying on the business, the nominal amount of those debts, subject to the said deductions;

(c) so far as it consists of any other assets which have been acquired otherwise than by purchase as aforesaid, the value of the assets when they became assets of the business, subject to the said deductions.

(2) The price or value of any assets other than a debt shall be subject to such deductions for depreciation as are necessary to reduce the asset to its written down value and, in the case of a debt, the nominal amount of the debt shall be subject to any deduction which has been allowed in respect thereof for income-tax purposes.

(3) Where the price of any asset has been satisfied otherwise than in cash, the then value of the consideration actually given for the asset shall be treated as the price at which the asset was acquired.

2. (1) Any borrowed money and debts shall be deducted and in particular any debt for income-tax or super-tax or for excess profits tax in respect of the business shall be deducted:

Provided that any such debt for income-tax or super-tax, or excess profits tax shall, for the purposes of this Schedule, be deemed to have become due—

(a) in the case of income-tax and super-tax on the last day of the period of time within which the tax is payable under section 45 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922;

(b) in the case of excess profits tax, on the first day after the end of the chargeable accounting period in respect of which the tax is assessable notwithstanding that the excess profits tax may not have been assessed until after that date.

(2) Where any debt for the excess profits tax assessable in respect of any period is to be deducted under this rule, the amount thereof shall not be reduced as a result of any relief to be given in respect of a deficiency of profits occurring in any subsequent period, and the amount of any such relief shall be treated as having become an asset of the business on the first day after the end of the chargeable accounting period in which the deficiency occurred.

3. Any investments the income from which is by virtue of the provisions of the First Schedule not to be taken into account in computing the profits of the business, and any moneys not required for the purposes of the business, shall be left out of account, but where any investments in the beneficial ownership of the person carrying on the business are so left out of account, the sum (if any) to be deducted under the last preceding rule in respect of borrowed money shall be computed as if the principal of the borrowed money were reduced by the value of those investments:

Provided that where the person carrying on the business is not a company, no reduction shall be deemed to be made in the principal of any borrowed money in respect of any investments unless the investments are mortgaged, charged or pledged as security for the repayment of that money and the interest thereon.

4. Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 3, in the case of the business of shipping, to which this Act applies, the sale proceeds of any tonnage sold or the amount of compensation in respect of loss of ships or the amount of accumulation of reserves, whether invested or not, shall be taken into account in computing the average amount of capital employed in such business:

Provided that any income received from investment of such funds shall be included in computing profits for purposes of the excess profits tax.

5. For the purpose of ascertaining the average amount of capital employed in a business during any period, the profits or losses made in that period shall, except so far as the contrary is shown, be deemed—

(a) to have accrued at an even rate throughout the period; and

(b) to have resulted, as they accrued, in a corresponding increase or decrease, as the case may be, in the capital employed in the business.

6. NOTICE.

No. 731.—A competitive examination for entry to (1) the 'Technical Arms' wing, and (2) the 'Cavalry and Infantry' wing of the Indian Military Academy, Dehra Dun, in the term beginning on or about the 27th January 1941; and (3) the Royal Indian Navy will be held in Delhi on Monday, the 21st October 1940, and subsequent days. The examination will be conducted by the Federal Public Service Commission.

2. The examination will be a combined one for the purpose of filling vacancies in (1) the 'Technical Arms' wing and (2) the 'Cavalry and Infantry' wing of the Indian Military Academy and (3) the Royal Indian Navy. A candidate may apply to be admitted to the examination for all or any of the above. If he wishes to be admitted as a candidate for more than one, he should state this on his application form. Separate applications are not required. He will be required to pay the application fee once only, and, in the case of the Royal Indian Navy, examination fee also once only. If he proves successful as a candidate for more than one, he will ordinarily be assigned to the one for which he expressed a preference in his application; but the Government of India reserve power to assign him to any one.

3. At this examination 15 vacancies will be offered for entry to the Indian Military Academy. Of these it is anticipated that from 6 to 8 vacancies will be offered for entry into the 'Technical Arms' wing and the rest for the 'Cavalry and Infantry' wing. The Governor-General in Council, however, reserves to himself the right to fill three vacancies (to be varied between the two wings on the recommendation of the Commander-in-Chief after each examination) by nomination from among those who have qualified but failed to obtain sufficient marks to secure one of the other twelve vacancies. Two vacancies will be offered for admission to the Executive Branch of the Royal Indian Navy.

4. The examination for each wing of the Indian Military Academy will be separate and if an insufficient number of candidates qualify for the 'Technical Arms' wing the vacancies for the 'Cavalry and Infantry' wing will not be proportionately increased.

5. During the course at the Indian Military Academy transfers from the 'Technical Arms' wing to the 'Cavalry and Infantry' wing will be permitted only if vacancies exist in the latter. Cadets of the Technical wing will be posted to the arm of their choice according to their place on the final passing out list, but if their position on the list is not high enough to secure them a commission in the arm they prefer, they will be offered one in either of the other two technical arms.

6. As a war-time measure, it has been decided that cadets, who enter either wing of the Indian Military Academy by reason of their success at this or at subsequent examinations during the war, will, on satisfactory completion of the course, be granted emergency commissions in His Majesty's Indian Land Forces. As no definite guarantee can be given to parents or guardians that these emergency commissions will be confirmed as permanent commissions after the war, the Government of India have decided that:—

(i) no fees either for the examination or for the course at the Indian Military Academy shall be payable;

(ii) cadets will be treated in the same way as 'Army' cadets for the purposes of pay, travelling and medical arrangements, provision of free clothing, uniform, equipment, etc.

7. Candidates for admission to the Indian Military Academy must have been born not earlier than the 2nd November 1920, and not later than the 1st November 1922. Candidates for the Royal Indian Navy examination must have been born not earlier than the 2nd May 1921, and not later than the 1st May 1923. These age limits can in no case be relaxed.

Setting aside of certain orders for delivery of possession.

4. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, a non-agricultural tenant or a person who, but for his ejectment in execution of a decree for ejectment, would have been deemed to be a non-agricultural tenant for the purposes of this Act, if he has been ejected between the thirtieth day of January, 1940 and the date of the commencement of this Act in execution of a decree for ejectment to which the provisions of section 3 are applicable may, within three months from the date of the commencement of this Act and without payment of any fee under the Court-fees Act, 1870, apply to the Court which made the order for delivery of possession to have such order set aside ; and such Court, if satisfied that the order was made VII of 1870.

(b) between the thirtieth day of January, 1940, and the date of the commencement of this Act, in respect of compensation awarded under such decree, to realize from the judgment-debtor compensation calculated on the basis of the rate at which the judgment-debtor was paying rent when notice to quit was served upon him ; and

(2) the realization of rent under sub-clause (a), or of compensation under sub-clause (b), of clause (1) shall not be deemed to estop the decree-holder from executing the decree for ejectment when such decree becomes executable.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 10th May 1940.

Final Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1939-40.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1937-38, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has, in the five years ending 1937-38, averaged (a) 42·7 and (b) 8·8 per cent., respectively.)

Character of the season.—After the issue of the third forecast the weather continued to be fairly favourable except in some districts where some damage was done to the crop by heavy showers and hail-storms.

Acreage.—According to District Officers' estimates, the total area sown is 177,100 as against 174,000 acres last year.

Outturn.—The provincial outturn on the basis of District Officers' estimates works out at 73 per cent. of the normal as against 72 per cent. last year. Taking the normal yield to be 9¾ maunds per acre, the gross yield of the crop for the province is estimated at 45,600 tons this year as against 43,800 tons last year.

At the end of April, the wholesale prices of wheat and common rice in the Calcutta Mart were Rs. 4-5 and Rs. 5 respectively or about 28 per cent. and 22 per cent. higher than the price ruling at the corresponding period last year.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to bring about a desirable change in the present constitution of the Committees of the Jama Masjid and Fatehpuri Masjid, by reducing the term of office of the members from life to five years and increasing the number independent and representative Muslim members in the Committee so as to provide for popular and effective control over the Mosques and Endowments attached thereto, which have hitherto remained almost exclusively in the hands of persons who were never represented by any democratic principle, and further to ensure the proper collection of income, disbursement of expenditure, maintenance and publication of the accounts and observance of discipline in the Mosques.

These changes cannot be brought about except by express legislation.
